Extract of a Letter from the Captain, and alſo from the Journal of the Surgeon, and a Teſtimonial from the Officers of His Majeſty's Ship Juno, on her late Voyage to Falkland's Iſland, now in my Hands, which I am ready to ſhew for the Satisfaction of any Perſon whatſoever.

Duke-Street, Weſtminſter. THOMAS NORRIS.

SIR, Portſmouth, 25th Jan. 1772.

IN the Outward Paſſage, by the Surgeon of the Ship's Report to me, of the 5th of April laſt, it appeared, that Geo. Hunter and Laur. Pitman, two of the Seamen, were taken ill with malignant Fevers; that having, for ſeveral Days, been given the uſual Medicines without Effect, he thought them paſt a Poſſibility of Recovery. Judging this a fit Opportunity to make a Trial of the Efficacy of your Drops, (for notwithſtanding the Recommendations which were given me of them, and which induced me to take them with me, I had reſolved to let every uſual Means take Place before I gave them) I then therefore gave a Bottle to the Surgeon, and deſired they might be adminiſtered; he ſaid, It would, he believed, be of little Conſequence whatever was given them, as he thought they could not live to the next Day; however, he would try them. The next Morning, in his Account to me of the Sick, he told me the Men were much better, and he believed they would recover, which from that Time they did, and were ſoon after able to do their Duty in the Ship.

On the 27th of July following, being in the Southern Part of the Torrid Zone, Mr. Joſlin, the Boatſwain of the Ship, was taken ill of the ſame Fever, with the like Symptoms as the two former; and after the Surgeon had repreſented to me, that he had uſed all the Means in his Power for his Recovery, to no Purpoſe, the Antimonial Drops were given, and had the deſired Effect, by his immediate Recovery.

Sometime afterwards, in the Southern Ocean, Ja. Hamm and Evan Williams, the one a Boy, the other a Marine, were ſeized with a Fever, and were, by the Surgeon's Report to me, given over for many Days; the Drops were given them alſo, which produced a plentiful Sweating, and their immediate Recovery. Such repeated Succeſs gives me the higheſt Opinion of the Virtues and Efficacy of your Antimonial Drops; and on theſe Grounds I cannot too ſtrongly recommend them.

Extract from the Surgeon's Journal.

5th of April, 1771. Geo. Hunter taken ill of a malignant Fever; Symptoms, a Head-Ach, Vomiting, burning Heat for many Days; the Medicines given had no Effect; then a Purging came on, with an Inſenſibility: He continued in that State Four or Five Days; when Dr. Norris's Antimonial Drops were given, which, without any ſenſible Operation, had the deſired Effect.

Same Day Lawrence Pittman was taken ill; Symptoms the ſame as Hunter, and given over; when the Antimonial Drops were adminiſtered, which, without any ſenſible Operation, had the deſired Effect.

27th July. Mr. Joſlin was taken ill of the ſame Fever as Hunter and Pittman; Symptoms the ſame; and after Medicines being given to no Effect, and given over, the Antimonial Drops were given, and had the deſired Effect.

James Hamm and Evan Williams were both ſeized with the ſame Fever; Symptoms the ſame; and were both given over for many Days: The Antimonial Drops were then given, which brought on a plentiful Sweating, and both recovered.

☞ The Diſorders for which Dr. Norris's Antimonial Drops are particularly recommended, are, putrid malignant, acute inflammatory, miliary, and nervous Fevers; Colds, inveterate Coughs, conſumptive Habits, Diſorders of the Stomach and Bowels, Indigeſtion, the Rheumatiſm, and all nervous Complaints.
